MANY HOMES

In Washington County In Mourning Because of the Death of Loved Ones.

MUDD.

Died, at the home of his father, W. C. Mudd, in Springfield, Ky., on October 19, 1902, at 2:15 p. m., Bernard Mudd, aged nineteen years.

About two weeks ago Bernard Mudd, one of the best and most respected boys in Springfield, was stricken with typhoid fever. Under the careful treatment of his brother, Dr. J. C. Mudd, and the attention of his parents, he was doing well when pneumonia in both lungs set in. The double illness was too much for the young man to conquer and after a hard fight he succumbed yesterday.

The funeral services will be held at St. Dominic's Church tomorrow morning at 9:30.

Bernard Mudd was a young man just on the threshold of life, with every promise of making good in life's struggle because of his manliness, courtesy and honorable conduct. It is such boys that this country needs and his death is not only a loss to his family but to the community.

SHADER.

A peculiarly sad death was that of Mr. Alphonsus L. Shader, which occurred in Louisville on Sunday last. Mr. Shader married about five weeks ago and while in New York on his honeymoon contracted typhoid fever. His physician in New York having advised it he hastened to his home in Louisville, where, after several weeks of sickness, he apparently became better. A relapse took place, however, and Mr. Shader was not able to fight successfully the dread disease. The funeral services were conducted yesterday morning at St. Francis of Rome church, the mass being said by Father White, who so recently had married Mr. and Mrs. Shader.

Mr. Shader was 39 years of age and was a nephew of Mr. J. A. Shader, of this place. For many years he had been in the employ of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co., or with the Adams Express Company, and had been coming to Springfield since the railroad was run here.

Mr. Shader had made many friends here who will grieve to hear of his death.

MEDLEY.

Mrs. Rose Medley, widow of Thos. W. Medley, died at her home in the St. Rose country yesterday morning at 2 o'clock, aged 64 years. Mrs. Medley had been a sufferer from consumption for some time, but had not been confined to her bed. Recently she contracted a cold which with almost lightning-like rapidity developed into pneumonia. Mrs. Medley was able to sit up and eat supper Monday night, but grew rapidly worse and died before dawn. The funeral services were conducted at St. Rose church this morning. The deceased is survived by the following children: Messrs. Fonga and Willie Medley, Mrs. Nora Smith and Misses Margaret, Catherine and Della Medley.

Mrs. Medley was greatly beloved by those who knew her because of her charity and kindness and especially her thoughtfulness and of consideration of those who were sick or afflicted. A neighbor of hers was heard to say yesterday that her community could ill afford to lose her as there was no one to take her place when trouble demanded consolation and affliction care.

Opens October 27.

The Washington County Tobacco Warehouse Co. and the Farmers Loose Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Co. will open their breaks on next Wednesday, Oct. 27, for the sale of tobacco in the loose leaf. A number of crops have been signed up for this day and representatives of eight or ten tobacco companies will be here to purchase the tobacco. Sales at each house will be conducted every day in the week, except Monday, during the tobacco season. The farmers of Washington county, having these two houses to dispose of their tobacco, should receive handsome prices for their tobacco. There is no town in the State the size of Springfield that can boast of two loose leaf tobacco markets, and the farmers of Washington county should appreciate the fact that they do not have to go to the expense of shipping their tobacco to Louisville and other markets this year.

PAINFUL ACCIDENTS

Sustained by Several People In The Valley Hill Neighborhood.

Our village has proven to be a public arena of deplorable accidents during the past week.

The first victim was Mr. J. O. Polin who fell through the embankment at the Tucker bridge Thursday and sustained a fracture of the hip and several bruises about the body. His condition is favorable now and immediate recovery is anticipated.

On Saturday following Mr. Will Sheemaker, of Pleasant Grove, suffered a painful fracture of his right leg. He was riding a young horse which reared and fell upon him, re-breaking his leg at the same place it was broken last winter.

Following this, seemingly to carry out the old superstition that "One accident calls for two or more successors of a similar nature," while disking wheat ground Tuesday morning Mr. Montgomery Reed was thrown beneath his harrow by sudden contact with a stump and was entangled so as to break both bones in his right leg about half way between the knee and ankle. Not only is the injury very painful, but is a very serious one as the bones are badly crushed and a severe sore from a chigger bite that existed exactly where the fracture was sustained prevented the successful bandaging of the injured member. This makes the case of a more serious nature. As soon as the cry for help was heard the many friends and neighbors immediately responded and Drs. Hyatt and Hopper were summoned at once. They set the fractured limb as quickly as possible and were called upon to attend Arthur Hardin, who had started in the house at Mr. Reed's and fell against the buggy wheel, fracturing his collar bone.

Death of Mr. John Nally.

Mr. John Nally, aged about seventy-six years, died at his home in this city on Monday, October eleventh. Mr. Nally was born and lived in Washington county until about four years ago when he removed to Nelson. In 1863 he was married to Miss Mary Brinco. Mr. Nally was the father of nine children, all of whom, with his wife, survive to mourn his loss. Mr. Nally until disabled by age was a prosperous farmer. He was an excellent Christian, a kind husband and father. His many friends extend sympathy and condolence to the bereaved family. Funeral services were conducted in St. Joseph's church on Tuesday afternoon. Interment in St. Joseph's cemetery.—Bardston Standard.

WEDDING BELLS

Have Gayly Pealed Forth During Past Week.—Marriages of Social Interest.

Royalty—Selecman.

Mr. Wm. Robertson Selecmann and Miss Virginia Royalty were married at the home of the bride's parents last Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, Rev. Wm. Harrison Williams, pastor of the Baptist church, performing the ceremony. The beautiful wedding ceremony was witnessed by the members of the families of the contracting parties and by a few close friends.

The house had been beautifully decorated for the occasion with cut flowers, ferns and potted plants. An arch of Southern smilax and white carnations from which was suspended a wedding bell was erected beneath which the young people were made man and wife. Back of this the potted plants were banked.

Prior to the wedding a musical program was rendered by Miss Elizabeth Waters, who also played "Evening Stars" from Tannhauser during the ceremony.

Miss Evelyn Royalty, who was dressed in pink silk and carried a bouquet of bride'smaids roses, was the maid of honor, while Mr. Shaker Robertson acted as best man to the groom. The bride was exquisitely gowned in amethyst colored silk and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Selecmann left for a tour of Eastern Kentucky.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Selecmann are among the best known and most popular of Springfield's young people and are members of old families of this county. The bride is the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. I. Royalty, while Mr. Selecmann is the son of Judge and Mrs. W. E. Selecmann and is the youngest attorney at the local bar.

McElroy—Robertson.

A wedding of great social interest to Springfield people was that of Miss Fannie Hardin McElroy and Mr. Shaker Robertson, which was solemnized at the Seelbach Hotel in Louisville this morning at 9:30 o'clock. Rev. R. E. C. Lawson, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony.

The wedding was a very quiet affair, being attended by only members of the family and a few intimate friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson will return to Springfield to marry on night and on Friday evening will be the guests of honor at a reception to be given by the bride's mother, Mrs. Robert Hardin McElroy.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robertson are members of very old and aristocratic Washington county families. The bride is the daughter of the late Robt. Hardin McElroy and Mrs. Annie Tate McElroy, while the groom is a son of Mr. W. K. Robertson and a grandson of County Clerk W. F. Booker.

Wright—Bush.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Ruby Wright and Mr. Robert Lynne Bush which was solemnized June 12 last at the home of the bride's parents at Terre Haute, Ind.

The wedding is tinged with quite a bit of romance. Mr. Bush was attending school in Terre Haute last year when he met his bride-to-be. After the marriage, which was unknown to Mr. Bush's parents, Mr. Bush returned home and later his wife, with two of his cousins, came to pay the family of Mr. Bush a visit. The young people kept their secret well, however, and it was not until after Mrs. Bush returned

...October Brides...

(Baltimore Sun.)

The land is full of lovers, and there's always room for more, O, brides of sweet October, bring your sweethearts to the door. The spring has lost its roses and the frost is on the way. But love keeps spring eternal and her lips are red with May: The brides of sweet October.

They are fair, they are fair, To the music of "Lobengrin" Marching down the golden stair.

The land is full of beauty, and the brides are beauty's own. In spite of summer's fading and the dreams of springtime flown; The world is gold with autumn, and the hearts are gold with love, That walk beside their sweethearts where the white stars dream above: The brides of sweet October.

Let them come, let them come, To the magic of Mendelssohn And the heart beat of the drum.

The land is full of wonder, and in wonder and in might The lovers lead the sweethearts to the lilted lanes of light. To autumn's altars glowing and the crimson aisles of gleam Where marriage bells of magic play the plenitudes of dream: The brides of sweet October.

On the way, on the way, Oh, they take us back to April And they turn the world to May.

SALES

Realty and Personality Sold In This County.—Good Prices Realized.

Last Saturday the residence property of Mr. H. R. Thompson on East Main street was sold at public auction and was bought by Mr. Leo Haydon for Mr. Jas. Willett for $2,900. The lot adjoining the residence property was purchased by the same party, the consideration being $700.

Father Hennessey has sold his farm, consisting of 277 acres, West of Springfield to Mr. Jas. Montgomery for $20,500. This is one of the best located and most desirable farms in Washington county.

Mrs. Elizabeth McLaughlin, Mrs. W. H. Duncan and Mr. H. R. Thompson have had sales of their personal property during the past week. All of the sales were well attended and the articles and stock disposed of brought good prices. Auctioneer S. M. Campbell cried all of the sales.

Mr. Jim Gray has sold his farm, the old Stigall place, to Mr. Riley for $3,000. The tract consists of 90 acres.

"I'd Rather Die, Doctor, that have my feet cut off," said M. L. Bingham, of Princeton, Ill. "But you'll die from gangrene (which had eaten away eight toes) if you don't," said the doctor. Instead he used Bucklen's Arnica Salve till wholly cured. Its cures of Eczema, Fever Sores, Boils, Burns and Piles astound the world. 25c. at Haydon & Robertson's.

WE CAREFULLY FILL PRESCRIPTIONS

You have to depend on the druggist almost as much as on the Doctor.

The best doctor's efforts are set at naught if his prescriptions are not carefully, accurately filled. We know how important the filling of prescriptions is—how much it means to you and to the patient. We fill prescriptions right. We compound them from the best grade, purest drugs—the only kind we keep in the store, and our re-checking system eliminates possibility of mistakes.

SQUIRE POLIN

Suffered a Serious Injury Last Week.—Is Now On the High Way to Recovery.

Squire John O. Polin, a member of the Fiscal Court of this county and one of the best known and most highly esteemed men in the county, was the victim of a serious accident last Thursday night. Mr. Polin and his son, Mr. Joe Polin, had spent the day in Louisville and upon returning left the train at Valley Hill where John Polin, Jr., met them to take them home. Upon reaching the bridge near the Tucker school house which is being repaired the three got out of the buggy to walk by it. Squire Polin, being interested in the work, started to walk across the bridge to see what progress was being made. A lantern had been hung up as a danger signal and the rays from this were reflected in such a manner as to make the part of the bridge which had been torn away look as if it had been replaced. Deceived by this Mr. Polin stepped out as he thought on the bridge but in reality into space and fell a distance of ten feet, breaking the pelvic bone in his hip, hurting his arm and bruising his body considerably. Until Sunday Squire Polin was in a precarious condition but since then has been doing well and is now on the high way to recovery.

"The Sun, with Squire's many other friends, wishes him a speedy recovery and that he may be none the worse for his accident."

GUESSING CONTEST

Organized For the Benefit of All Subscribers.—Handsome Presents To Be Given Away.

The Sun has secured the Pumpkin which took the prize at the 1902 Washington County Fair and is going to let those who pay up their subscription in advance and all new subscribers take a guess on the number of seed the pumpkin contains.

We are going to give three prizes and the three guessing the nearest to the number of seed the pumpkin contains will receive the prizes. The prizes are as follows: The first prize will be a $40.00 Sewing Machine, "The Free." This machine is sold by The Robertson-Claybrook Co., and is a perfect machine, and will be a handsome ornament for some home. The second prize is a $25.00 Set of Harness, either wagon or buggy harness, the winner to take his choice. This harness has been purchased of Mr. Geo. J. Begemann, manufacturer of hand-made harness, and will make some person happy.

We ask that you call at stores of The Robertson-Claybrook Co., Ed. M. Russell and Geo. J. Begemann and inspect the prizes for yourself, and see what handsome things they are. For further particulars of this contest read the large advertisement on page 8.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Liniment and bound on to the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When troubled with lame back or pains in the side or chest give it a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. This liniment also relieves rheumatic pains and is certain to please anyone suffering from that disease. Sold by The Leo Haydon Drug Co.

$100 To be Given Away In Prizes in our Great Guessing Contest

We have inaugurated a great Guessing Contest—one that will keep the people guessing, one that everyone has a equal show for an prize. This contest has been organized for the benefit of our subscribers—old and new alike—and everyone paying their subscription in advance and every new subscriber will be entitled to one guess.

What You Are to Guess On!

We have secured the Mammoth Pumpkin that took the prize at the 1909 Washington County Fair and we are going to let our subscribers who pay up their subscriptions, and all New subscribers paying in advance guess on

How Many Seed the Large Pumpkin Contains

We are going to give Three Prizes amounting to $100 to those who guess the nearest number of seed this Pumpkin contains, prizes that are useful, and will last you a lifetime—something that you will be proud of. Read about the prizes below come in and subscribe for The Sun and take a Guess.

THE PUMPKIN

The Pumpkin is a very large one, also a very fine one, having taken the first prize at the 1909 Washington County Fair.

This Pumpkin is on display at our office, and you are invited to come in and see it. Come in and take a guess on how many seeds it contains.

When the contest closes—the date will be announced later—this Pumpkin will be cut open and the seed will be counted by two reliable people, and everyone is cordially invited to be at the counting and see that it is done correct. It will be a square deal for everybody. Read about the prizes and take a guess.

FIRST PRIZE

The first Prize is a $40.00 Sewing Machine, "THE FREE." Anyone would be proud to own it.

This machine is sold by The Robertson-Claybrook Co., and can be seen at any time at their store. "The Free" Sewing Machine is one of the finest machines made—it does the kind of sewing that other machines have never done—and is one that any house keeper would be proud to own.

Call at their store and see it and let them explain the wonderful advantages it has.

SECOND PRIZE

The Second Prize is a $35.00 Sewing Machine, "THE NEW HOME." A high-class Standard Machine.

This machine is sold in Springfield by Ed. M. Russell, and is on display for the inspection of the public at his Jewelry Store at all times. "The New Home" Sewing Machine is one of the finest machines on the market, doing perfect work, and is highly recommended by those who have one. This machine will also make a handsome ornament for some home.

Call at Mr. Russell's Jewelry Store and inspect this machine.

THIRD PRIZE

The third Prize is a $25.00 Set of Harness, either Buggy or wagon harness, winner to take his choice.

The harness was purchased of Mr. Geo. J. Begemann, our home manufacturer of hand-made harness. Any person will know how to appreciate a $25.00 set of harness.

Call at Mr. Begemann's Harness Shop and ask him about the Harness, get him to tell you what kind of goods it is made of, and see if it isn't a set that will last a lifetime.

Remember—Your choice of either wagon or buggy harness

RULES OF CONTEST: Every man, woman or child subscribing for The Sun, or anyone one guess for each dollar paid. We have a ballot box at this office in which to deposit your ballots, and it will not be opened by anyone until the contest has closed and the seed have been counted. The day the contest closes the Pumpkin will be cut open and the seed counted by two reliable persons in the presence of everyone who wishes to be present. The prizes will be awarded to the three guessing the nearest to the number of seed the Pumpkin contains.

Negros On Ballot.

Owensboro, Ky., Oct. 13.—Negro voters of Davison county filed a petition with the County Clerk Wednesday afternoon asking that the names of negro voters be placed on the official election ballot for six county officers not filed by the Republican convention. The filing of the petition came like a bombshell in the Republican ranks and the leaders were very uneasy. Rolla Bryant was nominated by the Republican convention for County Judge and the remainder of the county ticket left blank.

The last registration shows that thirteen negroes registered as Democrats and 151 registered as independents.

Elderly People Helped Free

The last years of life are the sweetest, and yet the most difficult to prolong. It is then that the greatest care is exercised in maintaining bodily health. But the chief care should always be with regard to the food you eat and what you are digesting properly. You should not allow yourself to become constipated.

No doubt you have tried salts and cathartic pills, purgative tablets, etc., and have come to the conclusion that they are violent in action and do but temporary good. Listen, then, to the voice of experience with regard to a more healthful laxative, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a food, only we are trying to find new friends for it.

Dr. J. C. Caldwell, of Chicago, Ill., suffered from stomach trouble for six years and found his cure in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. His wife uses it too with success. We could name hundreds of others. Some heard of it first through neighbors who, through the doctor's offer to send any sufferer from a stomach, liver or bowels complaint a free sample bottle for trial, without charge. If you have not received a free sample bottle he will send you a trial bottle direct as your health and comfort. He claims that continued treatment by buying a 50-cent or $1 bottle of your druggist, as all of them sell it. Old people, like children, should look for purity, and it is well to mention that the purity of this remedy is vouchsafed for by the U. S. government. Also, though a free bottle is sent to prove its merits, results are always guaranteed. From the regular bottles bought of druggists, who will refund your money if it does not satisfy you. Send at least for the free test bottle today.

If there is anything about your ailment that you don't understand, or if you want any medical advice, write to the doctor, and he will answer you fully. There is no charge for this service. The address is Dr. W. A. Caldwell, 500 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill.

Hon. Champ Clark gives the following piece of political history, which should encourage all good Democrats and cause them to be true to their party:

In the Fifty-ninth Congress the Republicans had a majority in the house of 114. In the Sixtieth Congress they had a house majority of 57. In the present House their majority is only 47.

So that even a blind man can see that the current runs against them. Holding all the seats that we now hold, we must gain only 24 in order to control the next House.

Surely the tariff fiasco ought to give us not only 24 seats now held by the Republicans, but twice 24. Indeed, the Payne-Aldrich bill is such a defiance of public opinion, that we ought to have as big a majority in the Sixty-second Congress as we had in the Fifty-second, when even New England sent more Democrats than Republicans to the House, as fruits of the McKinley bill.
History has a strange and instructive way of repeating itself.

A few figures may serve to elucidate the situation, and here they are: There are 19 Republican members whose plu-ralities are below 1,000; nine whose plu-ralities are below 2,000 and above 1,000, and eighteen whose pluralities are below 3,000 and above 2,000. That makes 46 all told. With the current running against them not a man of the 46 is certain of re-election. When they think of the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill and then of the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1910, the cold chills creep up and down their spinal columns.

One other thing is quite likely to help us in 1910. In any event the Senate will remain Republican till 1913. When the beneficiaries of the Payne-Aldrich bill realize upon that fact and upon the further fact that they will hold the White House till March 4, 1912, they may conclude that there is no sense in squandering their wealth in electing a Republican House in 1910, and therefore leave Republican candidates to paddle their own canoe. Democratic prospects are improving every hour.

Elsewhere in this issue of The Sun will be found a large advertisement of the sale of Live Stock, Etc., by Hennessy & Baker. This will probably be the largest sale of its kind ever held in Springfield. This sale was brought about by Mr. Baker having rented a fine farm in Nelson county, desiring to dissolve partnership and go in business for himself. We regret to lose Mr.
Baker and family, but hope them much success in their new field.

Those desiring to receive official returns of this district, consisting of four counties, and some of the results in Louisville, may do so by taking up a small subscription to help defray expenses; this is to be at any place they may name on any line. Please make arrangements as soon as possible. If you do not receive returns money will be refunded. Either call or write to Dr.

FINE SPORT

Wild Boar Captured in the Knobs After an Exciting Chase.

Several years ago two hogs escaped from Samuel Baker, in Boyle county above Mitchellburg, and way into the knobs. All efforts to capture them proved futile, and they increased in number and became a menace to the locality, killing young calves and chasing children and grown people, too, out of the woods where they had gone to gather chestnuts. Last Friday a hunting party was formed to run down the wild creatures, and Clint Newby and William Martin, of Perryville, were in the party with several dogs. They put the dogs upon the trail and soon had the hogs on the retreat to the thickest underbrush in the knobs. The chase lasted half a day before either of the hogs was caught, when one was taken in tow, which was roped and placed in a two-horse wagon, and the chase was resumed which lasted some time before the second hog was captured. After being worried by the dogs for some time another one of the hogs, which was a male, weighing something more than two hundred pounds and had tusks almost three inches long, became so ferocious that in several instances members of the pursuing party had to shin up trees to escape being ripped into shreds. One of the dogs was gashed in the side to the hollow before the well-nigh maddened brute was brought to bay in a ravine, and beaten almost to insensibility and lassoed like an ox. Another hunt will shortly be organized.—Harrodsburg Herald.

How to Cure a Cold.

Be as careful as you can, you will occasionally take cold, and when you do get a medicine of known reliability, one that has an established reputation and that is certain to effect a quick cure. Such a medicine is Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It has gained a world wide reputation by its remarkable cures of this most common ailment, and can always be depended upon. MOSQUITO IN FLIGHT

Pest Is Driven from Five Populous New Jersey Counties.

At Oldest Head of Experiment Station Received Little but Ridicule—Results Have Won Many Enthusiastic Supporters.

Trenton, N. J.—Prof. John B. Smith, head of the New Jersey state entomological experiment station, has just finished a tour of inspection over five counties in the state where lowlands, salt marshes and meadows have been ditched to rid them of the mosquito pest. Prof. Smith interviewed many residents of these counties, and the unanimous testimony was that the salt water mosquito, where the ditching has been done, has been practically eliminated.

The counties which have thus been rid of the pest are the most populous of the state—Essex, Union, Middlesex, Monmouth and Ocean. The work of drainage was begun six years ago amid a chorus of derision from incredulous scoffers, who said Jersey would never be again but the "mosquito state."

Miles upon miles of ditching, however, which Prof. Smith's late trip showed to be still free of obstruction and doing the work it was intended to do, have changed these doubters into enthusiastic supporters. Prof. Smith at first had to carry on the work practically alone, but now he has the active co-operation of local associations of taxpayers in almost every town, village and hamlet benefited.

All the ditches were expected to do was to drain off the surface water. This they did, and where formerly anyone walking across the marshes would step into water from two to three inches deep, there is now dry surface. Moreover, fine crops of marsh hay are now gathered and cured weeks earlier than formerly.

Prof. Smith has learned much about the life history of the salt marsh mosquito, of which students of the pest are ignorant. It was supposed that the mosquito was bred in water; that the eggs were laid there, and that the larva developed there. Through experimental work it has developed that the eggs are always laid in soft mud and that if this dries up the eggs are not hatched until this surface is flooded by water again.

It was formerly an erroneous belief that the mosquito remained within a short distance of the place where it was hatched. On the contrary, it is often carried from twenty to forty miles from the breeding place by a favoring wind.

The following places were visited by Prof. Smith, and citizens in each place testified that the mosquito, formerly a swarming pest, was now practically extinct: The Newark meadows, Chesapeake, Margus creek, and Whale creek, Cliffwood, Matwan creek, Keyport creek, Atlantic Highlands, Rumson, Shrewsbury, Red Bank, Monmouth beach, Pleasure Bay, Port au Peck, the Manasquan marshes, Seagirt, Brielle and Point Pleasant at the head of Barnegat bay.

Col. Edwin W. Hine, who has had experience with the mosquitoes at the state encampment at Seagirt for years, said that while the Fifth New Jersey regiment was in camp this summer there were hardly enough mosquitoes to tell about, while formerly the soldiers had suffered greatly. The Rumson and Monmouth beach associations were so enthusiastic over the good work that they raised a fund of $2,700 to aid Prof. Smith's campaign.

A striking contrast was observed at Barnegat Pier. The marshes near that point have not been drained, and pools of water can be seen scattered all over them. The long grass swarms with mosquitoes. To prove that the pools were breeding places, Prof. Smith filled a glass with water from one of the pools, and then a small net was dragged through the pool, and the contents emptied into the glass. The result was mosquito larva in large numbers. The Barnegat bay section had been mapped out for drainage this fall, but the legislature made no appropriation and the work will not be done this year.

Altogether in the six years since the campaign began 10,000 acres of Jersey meadow and salt water land have been drained at an expense of five dollars per acre. Herman H. Brehme, Prof. Smith's assistant, has had charge of the survey work, and directed the work of Contractor James P. Monahan of Red Bank. Mr. Monahan uses a machine which automatically cuts and removes the sod from the meadows, cutting a trench 20 inches deep and nine inches wide.

Prof. Smith says that where mosquitoes appear in any sections adjoining the drained areas mentioned they will be few in number and of the sort known as culex pipiens, a dark colored variety that is bred in sewer basins, stagnant fresh water pools, cellars and the like. The striped leg variety comes from the marshes.

Tobacco Boom in Panama, Washington.—Factories for the manufacture of plug tobacco, whose output probably will be 20,000 pounds a month, soon will be in operation on the isthmus of Panama, reports Vice Consul Claude E. Guyant of Panama City. The Ishimian Tobacco Company, composed largely of Kentucky men, backs the project. The tobacco will be imported dry from Kentucky and Virginia.

RUGS AND WALLS IN HARMONY

To Have the Floor the Darkest Tone Is Always a Safe Decorative Rule to Follow.

A floor should be the lowest or darkest tone in the room, then the walls and the ceiling the lightest or highest. This is the natural way and the safest to follow as a general rule. It gives a feeling of firmness and solidity to the floor, whereas, if the order is reversed and the floor is lighter than the ceiling, one feels that the ceiling is coming down on one's head and that dodging is the only way to escape a blow. The floor should support the walls in color as well as in fact, but care must be taken not to make the mistake of thinking that strength of color is obtrusiveness of color. Strength of color in the right place will make the scheme of decoration a successful and satisfying one, but obtrusiveness of color will make a hopeless failure of it, declares a writer in the Woman's Home Companion.

The chief color of the rug should be the chief color of the walls—not necessarily the same tone, but harmonizing tones of the same shade. If the walls are a soft yellow, a rug with different shades of brown, and to give the needed note of contrast, dull soft red and blue would look well in the room. This kind of rug would also go well with green or blue walls. The proportion of the different colors in a rug may make or mar it for one special use. In choosing a rug it is best to have a feeling of one predominant color, with the other colors adding the snap that contrast gives and forming a harmonious and delightful whole.

Before finally deciding on a rug, ask to have it sent to the house to try in the spot for which it is intended, because what looks quite wonderful in the shop may prove quite unsatisfactory in the house. Be sure to try it with the light against the nap and then with it; one will be astonished to see what a difference in the appearance of the rug it makes.

FOULARD WAIST

Blouse of pale blue dotted foulard ornamented with motifs of guipure.

The yoke and sleeve caps are cut in one piece and are of the silk, shirred and trimmed with guipure. The undersleeves, also of the material, are finished with deep cuffs of the guipure. The waist is of plain silk.

Interchangeable Scarf.

The possibilities of the chiffon and the mousseline scarf have never been greater, for, as they appear with almost every costume, madame may obtain an indefinite number of effects by the exercise of merely ordinary ingenuity. A single scarf may be made to do duty at once for veil and hat trimming while driving, walking or motoring, and the same scarf may appear again in the afternoon as a swathing sash, or even as one of the new Henry III. mantles. In the evening the scarf may be transformed into a stole, either as a shoulder throw or as a mantilla.

Veil scarfs of soft silk chiffon may be procured in shades of fawn, natter, blue, rose, ecru, khaki and green, besides all the usual pastel shades and black and white. Many, too, may be found with edges hand-painted or embroidered, while others are printed in soft and lovely Persian shades. The woman with the scarf may be far more entrancing and beautiful than even the woman with the fan.

When Making Baby's Bib. It is a mistake to make a baby's bib of too sheer material. A fine sort of linen of opaque grade makes a serviceable as well as a dainty bib. Keep the scalloped shallow as heavy callipers ruin the distinctness of the embroidery. Even when the heavier linen is chosen it must be fine, not stiff, the sort of a bib that is a real protection.

Every bib should have a quilted lining underneath it. This is made of variety that is made of linen either the same grade as outside or coarser. Cut it in the shape of the bib, but a little smaller.

Gloves with Circles. The smart gloves that many fashionable women are wearing has the back heavily embroidered with circles in colored silk. This is in the color if not tone, as the kid of the glove.

To Tell Right Side of Goods. In making up dresses of wool serge it is a time saver to learn that the serge weaver's twill always runs to the right on the right side of the goods.

MR. BRYAN'S PLANS

In response to repeated demands, coming from every section of the United States, Mr. Bryan will conduct a vigorous campaign of education through The Commonsense, and assist in the organization of "An educational club in every hamlet." These clubs will promote the work of education among the voters on all political questions affecting the American people.

The following subjects, and others, upon which all Americans should be accurately informed, will be discussed: The Tariff (by schedules as it affects the individual); Postal Savings Banks; Imperialism; Colonization; The Rights of the States; State-Wide Primary Laws; Inheritance Tax; Initiative and Referendum; Dams; Health of Public Officials; Commission Form of Government for Cities; The Trust Question; Regulation of Railroads and Other Corporations; Popular Election of Senators; Income Tax.

This series will afford a vast fund of political information for any citizen regardless of party affiliation, provide excellent material for all students of economic questions, and will be a valuable compendium of politics for schools and debating societies.

FREE BOOKS FOR EVERYONE

The Commonsense, to start this campaign of education, and to place this series of articles in the hands of as many voters as possible, will give FREE, and express prepaid, to every reader in the United States, the following splendid books:

The Life and Works of Abraham Lincoln—Six volumes, 1,000 pages, bound in red cloth, gold back stamp. Introductions and special articles by Theodore Roosevelt, President Taft, Governor Hughes, Henry Watterson and others. Full bibliography and index. Contains many speeches, including Lincoln's famous "Gettysburg Address," and many other important historical documents and state papers. This fine set of six volumes is the best of its kind ever published. It is a masterpiece of scholarship and research, and is a treasure to every citizen. It is a masterpiece of scholarship and research, and is a treasure to every citizen. It is a masterpiece of scholarship and research, and is a treasure to every citizen.

Start this week among your friends and secure these books FREE, any or all of them, for a little way word. It is not hard to secure subscribers for The Commonsense. It is taken by people of all parties, and contains departments of interest to every member of the family. Educational clubs will be organized in every county, and many will subscribe in order to secure The Commonsense's Club of Study. These clubs and other special features will well repay the subscriber, and anyone may be proud to have the books which we offer FREE in their hands.

More Than Enough Is Too Much.

To maintain health, a mature man or woman needs just enough food to repair the waste and supply energy and body heat. The habitual consumption of more food than is necessary for these purposes is the prime cause of stomach troubles, rheumatism and disorders of the kidneys. If troubled with indigestion, revise your diet, let reason and not appetite control and take a few doses of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and you will soon be all right again. For sale by The Leo Haydon Drug Co.

To Eradicate Wheat-Field Onions.

The Bligh Milling Co., Seymour, Ind., are giving publicity to the following method of destroying the wild onion which infests wheat fields:

"The wheat raiser knows no plant more tenacious of life and harder to kill than the wild onion, but as there is also no plant which becomes a greater pest and produces more loss than the wild onion, any method that will eradicate it should be taken up promptly no matter how difficult the work connected with this may prove to be.

"To destroy the wild onion the United States Agricultural Department advises 'to harrow with a disk in the fall when the onions are a foot or more high and follow with a deep plowing. The form of deep plowing which is most effective is the one known as trench plowing where two plows are used in breaking, the head one cutting about three inches deep, while the second one about a depth of ten inches. The shallow running plow on the next round will turn about three inches of soil which practically carries all the wild onions into the deeper furrow left by the deeper running plow and will thus completely bury the plants so that they will not show up again."

"This form of plowing should be done in the fall, but in order to make a sure doubly sure, break again, shallow, early in the spring and plant to a cultivated crop, and if careful cultivation is then given, the method thus followed is said to be an absolute death to the wild onion plant in that particular field."

AUTOMATIC LAW ENFORCER

An Ingenious Apparatus for the Motorist's Desires Safety.

Vice-Consul H. M. Bryington, at Bristol, reports as follows concerning a new British apparatus which controls the speed of motor cars:

"According to the published description of a practical trial, the device automatically removes the clutch when the speed of the car slightly exceeds the arranged limit and when necessary the brake is also automatically applied until the rate is reduced just below the limit. The brake is then quickly but gently removed and the clutch again put in. A supplementary is automatically raised to warn the driver when he is approaching the maximum. The mechanism, which sits in a compact aluminum box and works in oil, takes very little space. It is put in action or out of gear in an instant and there is no need to stop or slow down the car while this is being done. The apparatus can be locked up so that the driver of a car cannot exceed the speed desired by the owner.

"Every effort was made on the trial to get the car to exceed the limit, which was set for 16 miles an hour. On coming to a fairly steep hill the engine was allowed full power and the car instantly started to gain speed. But as soon as the limit was reached the brakes were applied strenuously, as if by magic (though no sudden jar was experienced), and the engine merely 'raced' without the slightest effect on the car, the speed being maintained at the 16-mile rate throughout."

GOLDEN KEY TO CHILD'S MIND

It is Sometimes Hard to Find, but in This Particular Case It Was Music.

A Chicago school and home visitor tells this story: "Mary was the terror of her teachers and her companions. It was fight, fight from morning until night. She threw erasers and books at her teachers and at the other children, she broke every rule and was a problem. When I visited her home I found Mary was the little drudge, doing all the work and caring for the sick mother. We found work for the boys out of work, sent the little ones to kindergarten and moved the family into a new locality. Mary's new teachers were willing to help make a new girl of her. One morning when I visited her school Mary came to me and whispered: 'Miss R, I want to tell you something all by myself where no one can hear us. It is something you must not tell anyone. I took Mary off by herself and she looked at me with an expression I shall not soon forget and said: 'Miss R, I love music.' Here was the golden key which would unlock Mary's stubborn little heart. I took her to a music teacher, who promised to train her voice as soon as Mary is old enough to sing. She has become a happy little girl, trudging to a piano teacher once a week and has been told how to care for her body and her voice so that she may some day become a really fine singer."

Byron's Bride of Abydos.

It is just 100 years ago that Lord Byron arrived in Greece, where he wrote that beautiful poem, "The Bride of Abydos," and that exquisite sonnet, "The Maid of Athens," which, says a Paris contemporary, every Englishman of culture knows by heart.

Documents enable us to establish the true identity of the heroine of this last poem. She was one of the three daughters of Mr. Black, English vice-consul at Athens, at whose house Byron for some time lived. After the death of the poet, Theresa Black married an archaeologist, M. Pittakis, whose widow she became several years later. Her beauty, her charm, her elegant and cultured every heart, including Byron's. In 1873 the heroine of the poem was an old woman of upright figure and still showing signs of former beauty. With age, however, came poverty. The Times, moved by her distress, opened at this epoch a subscription in her favor. She died in 1878.

One for Wilhelm.

The teacher was giving a geography lesson, and the class, having traveled from London to Labrador, and from Thessalonica to Timbuctoo, was thoroughly worn out.

"And now," said the teacher, "we come to Germany, that important country governed by the Kaiser. Tommy Jones, what is a Kaiser?" "Please m," raved Tommy Jones, "a steam of hot water springs up as 'disturb the earth.'"—Argonaut.

Too Many Knaves.

"Why do you propose to call your self a king?" "I wish to dash overboard the brow of the prince of Montenegro. 'I have here,' he replied, 'the cards of the heads of reigning families.' He shuffled the cards nervously. 'Observe for yourself that there are too many knaves in the pack,' he added.—Philadelphia Public Ledger.
